

Canadian Academy of Endodontics

Elects New President

The Canadian Academy of Endodontics held its Annual General Meeting in Quebec City, PQ on 11 Sept 2011. A new slate of officers were elected and Dr. Michael Gossack was installed as President.

Dr. Gossack graduated with his D.D.S. from McGill University in 1977 and practiced general dentistry in Montreal from 1977 until 1980. He then attended the University of Detroit where he received his Certificate in Endodontics in 1982.

Dr. Michael Gossack

Since then, he has been engaged in private practice limited to endodontics in Windsor, Ontario. He has also been a Part Time Faculty member with the Department of Endodontics at the University of Detroit Michigan since 1982.

Dr. Gossack has been the editor of the Canadian Academy of Endodontics Newsletter since 1995, and a member of the CAE Executive for the past three years. He is also a member of the Ontario Society of Endodontists, the American Association of Endodontists, and the Michigan Association of Endodontists.
